

WEEKLY BULLETIN

Where learning has no limits

Week beginning 4th March

The children spotted many early signs of Spring last week on their way to the Eco garden – they were very observant and spotted daffodils, snowdrops and primroses! In the Eco garden we went on a ‘bug hunt’ and we found centipedes, spiders and beetles. Back at the Nursery, the children have been playing a lot of percussion instruments and singing on stage!

This week, to fit in with our animal themed book day (on Friday), we will be carrying out activities around the ‘Dear Zoo’ story by Rod Campbell. We will be thinking about the characteristics of the different the animals in the story as well as encouraging the children to think about the problems having other wild animals as pets might create! When they are familiar with the story we will give the children an opportunity of performing it on stage. The animals arrive in different sized containers and so our mathematics activities will include comparing the sizes of different containers by filling them with sand or deciding whether a small world animal can fit inside or not.

We will continue following the ‘Jolly Phonics’ programme, and this week we will be thinking about the ‘Z’ phoneme. Each week, the children are more than welcome to bring items to the Nursery beginning with the ‘phoneme of the week’.

Helping your child at home

Perhaps your child could select a story about animals from the Book Corner to share at home. You could have a discussion about whether the animal(s) would make a good pet or what the problems might be. You could also think about whether the animal would need a large, medium or small container.

Book Day - we will be having our ‘Book Day’ on Friday 8th March. The children are very welcome to come to Nursery dressed as an animal from a book on this day – and who knows – the adults might do the same!

Thank you
